- The heroes hear that the Nippers have been disbanded by a Watcher invasion of the Walker's Ark. The children put up a spirited resistance and the invaders are covered in water and flour and suffer minor injuries from falling over trip wires and being hit by bags of rocks on ropes. Eventually, however, the Watchers prevail. Carat and Woodbeam are arrested and reunited with their mother.
- Trickling Brook delivers her portraits to Walker. When Flame sees hers, she is sucked into Painter's trap.

Monday, 14th Day of the Month of the Scales, 2473

AM

The Marvellous Automaton (MS)

PM

- Smoke billows over Everway. It's from All the Gods Way, where Glimmer Moondance has led an army of Moondancers. They have set fire to several temples.

The Cockatrice

- The heroes could decide to see the Tenders (Bier, Embalmer - Morgue's cousin - and Casket) who run the other Houses of Dusk. This is ostensibly a good idea. There is considerable competition and rumours of messing with the dead will drive more business their way.
 - What happens depends on who the heroes contact (FC if they choose randomly). Embalmer will want to investigate the allegations that the heroes are making. Casket, an exceptionally arrogant woman with a strong sense of family decorum, will refuse to listen to a bunch of Outsiders. If forced by Rathgard's oratory, she will immediately close family ranks, which won't help the heroes. Bier will see a business opportunity and will spread rumours amongst potential customers, but won't otherwise act.
 - Embalmer can persuade Morgue to come clean (she will initially deny all knowledge, but the heroes can find the secret door behind which the cockatrice lurks...) and confess about the arrangement with Nightwing.
 - One complication is the disappearance of Passing Tender. If this comes up and the heroes admit to some knowledge of it, their case will be immediately weakened. Steadfast Watcher gets involved.
- If the heroes decide to take on the cockatrice... The fight is heard. Morgue comes in with her guards "What is the meaning of this?" Heroes can defeat them and take Morgue hostage.
 - If they kill her, there are notes on her body from Nightwing Crookstaff (though Flame may crisp them)
 - Morgue has an office that the heroes can ransack. It is in the tower that sits on top of the main body of the House. A staircase to it runs up one side of the House from the service rooms - there are windows overlooking the main room. Notes from "NC" can be found here complaining at the slow progress in filling the spirit bottles and threatening to withhold payment. They make mention of "Master Glint" and "Mistress Greymoss". From this the heroes should hopefully be able to piece together who and where NC is.

Passing Tender

- TBT will be questioned and will spill the beans on Wishbone's and Rathgard's appearances. An Inspector Bucket character. Steadfast Watcher. Dogged, determined to get her man. Builds a case implicating Wishbone. TBT implies a motive. Eye witness at the scene. No compunction about using violence. "You must admit that it seems a little suspicious." Note: Has the usual Everwayan assumption that men are her lackeys.

- "I'm not here to cause trouble. But I couldn't help noticing..."

The Trade Dispute – Consequences

Meeting the Potters

Liberty House has been cleaned up by gang members, but the odd blood splash and smell of unwashed flesh still remain. The best meeting location is the Display Rooms. Some of Waving Flag's pieces are still there - it may be therapeutic to smash them.

- Attendees:
 - Caddis
 - Hewer
 - Vesper Morningstar (Hewer's rival)
 - Oddeye Softsand (landscape plates)
 - Faience Twolamp
- Threnody Salter, if invited, will refuse. The heroes could frogmarch her there if they wish, but will have to fight off 4 protecting Plumes, which may damage their relationship with that family.
- Hewer expresses his profound thanks for the heroes' intervention - he has already had an expression of interest from a major Everway family which, along with the heroes' contribution, will allow him to avoid bankruptcy.
 - Both Vesper and Caddis are annoyed at this, particularly if the size of the heroes' contribution is made public. Vesper is being a little disingenuous as she has also had an Everway family sniffing around. It turns out to be the same one (the Diggers). Rathgard can persuade them to join forces rather than undercutting each other.
 - Rathgard can suggest that Skillet becomes an apprentice with Hewer. Caddis will not be delighted, but reluctantly acknowledges that it will be good training for her.
- Faience Twolamp declines whatever Rathgard is offering because she is too busy. "There's this nice man that comes to see me once a week. He offered me lots of money to make these pots out of a special clay that he provided. He was very insistent that I followed his designs - I made him the sweetest little spaniel, with a bow and everything, but he got very annoyed and said that it was a waste of clay and pots were all that he wanted. He didn't even want them decorated." She lowers her voice. "Between you, me, and the gatepost, I think he's from an Everwayan family. He said they were for a family ceremony."
 - Further questioning will reveal that Faience has made and been paid for at least a dozen pots, though she is irritatingly vague about the precise number. "It could have been 15 or even 20. He didn't pay for all of them."

Devalued Currency

- Three Trees will start delivering bags of hefts from the proceeds of the smuggling operation. If Flame gets hold of any of these, she will notice that the colour is off because the gold content of some of them is considerably lower than it should be.
- Close examination of the coins will show that the Crookstaff dweomer is present, so either some exceptionally competent counterfeiters have managed to duplicate the magical signature or these are official coins. The heroes might infer that the Diggers are in trouble.

Cunning and Slight

If Slight goes back to training with Cunning:

- Cunning will try to change the focus of Slight's training away from Cleacuun and on to magical detection and self-defence.
- He will try to lay a subtle geas that makes Slight unable to perceive the entrance to the cellars. Slight will probably figure out what's going on and remove it using the Pyramid. If he complains, Cunning will point out that this is what Maba will do to him if he doesn't learn to defend himself.

What will Cunning do about Slight's lie concerning the phrase from the book?

- He knows about the Book of Words – it is mentioned in the legend of Spheremaker's attempt to create a new world. He suspects that Slight may have seen it, and probably recently.
- He will probably pick up on the fact that Slight's desire to learn Cleacuun was to understand the Book, which suggests that it is in Everway somewhere.

Possible locations:

- The cellars. Slight or someone else could have stolen it because it looks interesting and hidden it there
- Library of All Worlds. Cunning has been through the entire Vaults, but perhaps the heroes discovered a secret stash somewhere?
- Somewhere else – a bookseller's in Strangerside, perhaps.

Actions

- The best thing to do is to follow Slight, but this is harder now that he recognises his magical signature. Care would have to be taken.
- If Cunning becomes convinced that the Book is in the Cellars, a "Books are Very Important" spell to pile all the books in the Cellars in one place would be effective, but Slight would have not to be around.

The Library

Chances are that the heroes will want to investigate further. As I have now warned them about the keys, I don't feel so bad if they find the door but can't get in. Aim to let them find the secret passage to the Scratch HQ.

Flame Divinations

A Flame divination is possible to try to identify the Twelve. Something like – where are the three keys that are easiest to take to get into the room of the Twelve? (Ans: In the houses of the coin counters, the flea-ridden and the word hoarders).

Another likely question is "Where is the nearest member of the Twelve?" (Slowstep, in the Court of Fools).

The heroes have met the following members of the Twelve:

- Quill Scratch
- Ulrich Crookstaff
- Codex Scratch
- Slowstep Watcher
- Cunning Gold

The best thing the heroes can do is to watch the library. It would be good to encourage them to come up with a plan to force the Twelve to meet. Publicising their existence could work, depending on how it is done. Slight could do something interesting.

Developments in Strangerside

- Strangerside Groupings and random names:
 - The Docksidiers - Burlap Stanchion, Temperate Blazon
 - The Midden Well Mob – Lentil Seabloom, Smelt Ironclad
 - The Harlots – Drudge Smallflower, Fleetfoot Howlingmoon
 - The Bignosers – Agate Bignose
 - The Catmange Crawlers – Slab Meathook

Cleaning up Beggartown

- Lack of food. There is not enough to go around. Even where there is waste, the beggars are often chased away.
- Lack of housing. People live in lean-tos and temporary shelters. Winter is coming and it gets cold.
- Lack of medicine. Lots of illness and infection – several people display stumps and disfigurements that good medicine could have helped to prevent.
- Lack of schooling: Beggartown children grow up illiterate and ignorant. Their only skills are in begging and theft.

Food

Possibilities:

- Several beggars can tell the heroes that Everway produces loads of waste food that is piled in festering heaps in a Mudbank estate some 2-3 miles northwest of the city. A sept of the Mudbanks called the Pickers controls them, led by a woman styling herself the Queen of Thrift. Some of the food is edible, but the Mudbanks do not allow beggars to take it as "it would interrupt the smooth operations of the city of Everway."
- The heroes could go to meet the Mudbanks – on a lucky FC, they may remember that Dewdrop Mudbank was on the list of clients of the Lavender House ("he likes his girls clean"). He can be blackmailed into allowing the beggars to raid the carts for edible food as they leave Everway.
- The many eateries around Talespinner's Square have waste food that could be put to use. Bazaar stallholders will sell food cheaply at the end of the day. Suggest to Wishbone/Walker/Flame that they might fancy going out to eat.
- The heroes could also impose a food tax on the restaurants they control, though this would be resented.
- Building up a fishing fleet is a well-received suggestion – Spinnaker can make them and the heroes have enough money to buy half a dozen (they are about 1500-2000 hefts each).
 - A number of the Docksidiers are ex-fisherfolk who have fallen on hard times and they are very keen on this idea. Their leader is Burlap Stanchion. She is very annoyed that Lentil Seabloom has got the gig.

Housing

- First problem is the lack of experienced builders and architects.
 - T-Square can help once the repairs to the Water Tower are complete (a couple of weeks)
 - The heroes may also be able to find sympathetic people in the Crafters Quarter – Mallet

Ironbrow is an ex-beggar turned prosperous architect who would be happy to help, and will even help to fund the work.

- Next problem is raw materials. There are a number of abandoned buildings that could be cannibalised for stone, but good quality wood is likely to be an issue.
 - Remind Flame of her encounter with Frank – leads to Aspen, who will trade the heroes some wood in return for a favour...
 - An alternative is to raid one of the log shipments from the Sunset Woods. These are run by the Stonebreakers, Golds and Diggers who all own tracts of woodland up in the mountains. The best wood is on the Stonebreaker barges. The safest place to do the raid would be a few miles outside Everway. The barges have a token guard presence but they can easily be overpowered [at least the first time...]. An ex-farmer called Humus Wheatear suggests setting up a barrier and "tax post" at the village of Waterwheel about 5 miles from the east gate of Strangerside as the river is narrow there. The locals would have to be bought.
- There will be some arguments about where to start, which the heroes will be expected to sort out. Stinkbutt Street in the Midden Well area has the worst conditions, but other groups may disagree.

Waterwheel

- The road to Waterwheel (Lowing Road) starts from the end of Tannery Lane at the Cowgate, a wooden-framed building draped in brown leather hides to keep the wind out. There is a raised platform with two bored-looking Mudbank guards playing cards, who glance over at the contents of the carts coming into or going out of the city but otherwise pay little attention. The town wall on this side is little more than a wooden stockade.
- It passes through farming areas belonging to the Mudbank and Snakering families. The Mudbanks have huge herds of cattle grazing in the water meadows next to the Sunset River. The Snakerings grow wheat.
- As its name implies, Waterwheel is a flour-milling village. The Sunset River, usually about 100' across, runs through a rocky channel of golden-yellow stone, reducing its width by a third. Half a dozen watermills have been built on either side, narrowing the navigable part of the river to 30'. The rest of the village consists of a shop, a small temple to the Walker, a pub called The Miller's Daughter (very buxom) and a dozen farmsteads. Approximately 200 people live here.
- A jetty used by fishermen sticks out into the water on the west side and there is a landing area for barges upstream.
- The village headwoman is Deft Grindstone, a hardnosed lady in her 40s who owns two of the mills. Humus can provide an introduction, though they are not friends since Deft refused to help when his family fell on hard times and was forced to sell up.
 - She and her fellow-millers have an exclusive contract with the Snakerings but feel unfairly done by. Flour imported from the Nine Cities is undercutting them and the Snakerings have cut costs to the bone.
 - She and her fellow mill owners will be amenable to the heroes setting up a toll house provided that they get a generous payment and their involvement can be plausibly denied. Her initial bid is 1200 hefts (200 per mill owner) - Rathgard can argue her down to 600.

Attacking the Barges

- The Stonebreaker barges are 120' x 15' and contain a mixture of planks, support timbers and firewood (FC to see what proportions). They have a crew of 12, of whom 4 have combat training. They are armed with bows and spears (E3, F4). The others will fight with boathooks and paddles, but ineffectively.
- The captain (Stanchel Stonebreaker) will resist any attempt to pay a toll, but the fight is likely to be rather one-sided. If the heroes are nice they can leave him with something to take back to Everway, which will reduce the likely repercussions.

- The heroes will need to acquire drays and carts to carry their ill-gotten gains back to Everway. Deft can help with this.
- A single barge will hold enough materials to construct 3-4 houses and enough firewood to last 75 families through the winter (9000 cubic feet = 75 cords).
- Consequences: If the heroes do this more than once, the Stonebreakers increase the number of guards on the barges. Unfortunately for them, while they are in the dispute about taxes they cannot hire guards from other families.

Medicine

- Brother Valentine could be persuaded to train groups of beggars in basic first aid once the Bliss cold turkey problem is sorted out.

Feral Kids

The children of Beggartown are uneducated and uncontrolled. This is a particular concern of Heron and her female neighbours Tress, Peg and Cotton (who is the mother of Hobnail)

The Fire

- Some kids set fire to a bunch of rags that spreads to nearby lean-tos in Clatterpan Street, causing a major fire.
 - The heroes can help out, otherwise several people die. Flame can quell the fire very effectively. By the time they get there a whole row of lean-tos is burning.
 - Fish Trader, Flame and Rathgard can rescue people from burning buildings.
 - Rathgard could make it rain.
 - Walker can heal the burnt victims
 - A water chain can be set up from Midden Well, which will enable the fire to be put out quickly. Otherwise it threatens to spread. Firebreaks will need to be set up and people's homes destroyed.
 - The kids responsible (Spelt, Hobnail and Groat) can be caught and brought to the heroes for judgment. They are in their early teens and are well known as thugs in the making, barely articulate and caring for nothing. Their despairing parents have given up on them and their neighbours are afraid of them. Voulges says that he can make use of them.

Other activities

- A BDotW gang member out on his own is beaten up and robbed (Sabatón).
- Didact Billows could help, though would need funding for a school.

Vermin

- Surprisingly, there is a solution to the flea problem among the beggars themselves. A young girl called Peapod Greycloud is an alchemist in the making and has found a formula made from common ingredients that will drive away fleas, which she has been selling. Since no-one believes that such a young girl could have invented it on her own, the neighbours think it is evil magic and will shout her down if she suggests it. Iron knows her and may suggest that the heroes look her up.

Invading Old Town

- One other possibility that may occur to the heroes: Invading Old Town. Easier said than done. There are five families and each has a personal set of bodyguards. In addition they employ Plumes, who patrol regularly in groups of four.
- If the heroes adopt a family-by-family approach, the Scriveners are probably the most vulnerable (particularly to threats of conflagration – they have valuable books and can't afford fire suppressant spells), but they have allies in the Papermakers Quarter.
- The heroes can, however, use a Beggartown crowd to threaten them. They will try to use the Plumes to move them on, but the Plumes have more sense than to take on Flame if she is present. When their allies desert them, the Council is easily cowed and will offer the heroes money to leave Old Town alone. This could be ploughed back into improvements for the people of Beggartown. The Old Town merchants will try to find allies among the Everway families if this happens.

Trouble at Home

Names of competent gang members: Shank, Polearm, Gorget

- Names of ex-Daggerboy members: Stickblood, Gash, Scar, Edge, Swish, Gouger
 - Names of ex-Blackhearts: Bludgeon, Blackeye, Skullsmasher, Baton, Cosh, Cudgel, Boomerang, Clubber and Crusher, Pommel, Mangle, Pelt, Blister
1. Dark Alley has all sorts of lowlifes whom the Daggerboys have been suppressing. Spate of thefts, muggings and burglaries. What should be done?
 2. Restaurant and tavern owners around Talespinner's Square start getting uppity. Example: Seraphic of the Ten True Men, owner of The Platinum Platter. A balding and snooty waiter type, he asks what will happen if he doesn't pay. He is easily cowed - the threat of a visit from Flame should do the trick.

Relations in the Gang

Voulges Major crush on Rathgard. Will try to protect him against any real or imagined threats. May end up taking on one of the other heroes if he thinks they are trying to usurp Rathgard.

- He will take a dislike to Fish Trader for starting a patrol that rivals his, particularly if he starts to get popular because of his summary justice.

Treb has fallen in love with Veil after the fight at Blackheart Lodge. Veil is (apparently) not interested in him because he is inarticulate around her and she thinks he is stupid. (Veil had a lover in the Blackhearts – Pummel – who was killed by a SotW. She wore a veil while mourning, hence her name).

- Will talk to Walker or possibly Rathgard and ask for advice

Brassart Will now definitely be plotting against Rathgard. Steel's substitute for Mace will encourage this.

Steel will become a spy for the Everway authorities. In return for safe passage to somewhere the heroes can't find her and a handsome payoff, she will help the Crows and Watchers launch a sneak attack on the Cellars.

Dirk the Unlucky Stabs himself playing the knife game.

The Peacekeepers

Mattock (M) – Young, short, eager beaver. Fast runner.

Pauldron (M) – Older and more cynical. Scared of Fish Trader.

Shank (F) – A knife scar has left her lip permanently disfigured. A barely repressed thug, prone to violence.

Gash (M) – Slim, dresses in leather, likes to fight with two knives. Fast runner. Thinks he's a hit with the ladies.

Pommel (M) – Also known as "Crookback" as he is always hunched over a book. Keeps a diary. A lawyer in the making.

Snapjaw (F) – Large and generally placid, but totally terrifying when roused.

Events on Patrol

1. An argument. Two women are yelling at each other and tearing bits of each other's clothes. Various people are standing around, not interfering.
2. Shank catches up with an "old friend". She forces him against the wall and demands he hand over the money he owes her. Starts carving him up unless stopped.
3. Gash calls out to a female "friend", who moons him.
4. A pregnant woman's waters break as the patrol is passing. She needs to be got to Mercy Hospital sharpish.
5. A woman in a green dress walks up to a baker's stall and swipes a loaf from it. She catches the eye of Gash and winks. The stall holder doesn't notice. The woman is in fact his "wife" (actually the stall holder's lover) and doesn't mind.
6. Two women arguing over a ragged-looking dress. One (Elm) claims that the other (Henbane) stole it from her washing line. Henbane did in fact do so, but because she stole her underwear last week.

Golds

- The bespelled ledgers will have their effect and Glisten Gold will be willing to negotiate (via Sunrise Gold). Their opening position is a deal on the same terms that the Blackhearts had – a 25% cut of the takings. They will go up to 50%.
- Flame's disputed status is trickier. In the light of the evidence in the ledgers, Glisten/Sunrise will offer to remove the Nighthawk murder accusation but can't do anything about the charges of arson and kidnapping levelled by the Masks and the Diggers.
 - An offer of the use of Butter Gold, the family lawyer, is made, but is fake, as the heroes will soon discover if they take it up. Butter cannot act on their behalf in any dispute involving another family.
- If they don't get their cut, the Golds will bring down the full force of their wrath. They can afford to pay for a platoon of Plumes to go in and arrest Flame.
 - The reward for bringing Flame in increases to 500 hefts.
- They will start negotiating with Brassart and Mace.

The Strangerside Mafia

- People traffickers – Waving Flag isn't the only merchant who is taking advantage of people's desire to come to Everway. The Goodbodies [like the irony of the name] run some weaving houses near the docks that are basically escort agencies. They may need some help bringing in more people from other spheres. Use this if the heroes reject the Trade Dispute plot.
- The Halyards are classic smugglers, focusing on wine and cheese. They won't be too happy if they hear that the heroes have done a deal with the Winelanders. Lamp Halyard is their leader.

- They will start to foment trouble, but will be more cautious because of what happened to Nighthawk Blackheart. They will also take precautions against Flame.
- Beat up Three Trees for selling contraband Wineland wine and cheeses. They consider it their market.
- The Spice Runner could be torched, as will any boats acquired for the shipping fleet.
- Blackheart Lodge burned down.
- Foment riots in Beggartown to act as distractions.
- Everway Families with a beef against the heroes could get in touch. Such as the Diggers or the Masks, both of whom will know them.

Random Beggartown / Dark Alley Events

- An exploding still.
 - Heroes may suspect they are being attacked (not yet...)
 - Cause is an illicit still being used to distill liquor in a half-ruined building near Dimmer Court. The alcohol caught fire and then exploded.
 - Two bodies. Five more are horribly burned.
- Heroes encounter a young man being mugged for refusing to pay a "toll". He is Highheart Wolfsbane.
 - A paranoid young man, blond hair, dressed in blue and black. He has a knife out and ready, hugs the walls and is constantly glancing over his shoulder, but it doesn't help him.
 - He is from the Old Town and is looking for the smugglers who can sell him a cheese as a gift for his lady friend (Merrily Lightstep).
- Three priestesses of the Goddess of Flowers - long white tunics with elaborate red robes embroidered with lilies, elaborate petal shaped collars that sweep up round the back of the head and circlets of carnations. They purify the streets by sprinkling them with rose water. Their temple is in southern Strangerside.

The Gatebreakers

If Flame or anyone else goes for a wander:

- See a printed poster in the Crafters' Quarter – a long tract inveighing against the tyranny of the King, the Great Council and the Merchant's Council of Strangerside –
 - "ONCE AGAIN the so-called Great Council has raised OUR taxes while they luxuriate in idleness, so puffed up with piggish greed that they can scarce raise themselves from their couches to waddle to the table for the next feast provided by OUR sweat and labour...
 - And while the hordes of MIDDLELAND threaten our western lands, and OUTSIDERS continue to POUR through our undefended gates in a NEVER-ENDING STREAM, polluting and corrupting our land and people, what does our Great King do? NOTHING! Lost in vice and idleness, concerned only with his boy-whores and girl-whores, he lounges on his Emerald Throne, oblivious to the DANGERS that beset this land!"
- The poster ends: "WE DEMAND:
 - The formation of a PEOPLE'S CHAMBER to run Everway in the interests of all its inhabitants
 - The EXPULSION of all OUTSIDERS who are corrupting our land
 - The DESTRUCTION of the Gates so that the fair city of Everway is never threatened again
 - INDEPENDENCE for the Lands of Roundwater so that local people may govern their own affairs

- LONG LIVE THE GATEBREAKERS!
- The poster can be traced back to the cellar of a glass blower (Fraytip Dewer) in Bottle Street. He holds clandestine meetings in his cellar, where there is a hidden printing press. The meetings are attended by various crafters and also some Everway and Old Town family members (From-the-North Sailson, Arrowsharp Raven, Veracity Scratch and Soothe Tender). From-the-North Sailson is responsible for the tract.

Mother Immortal Light

It is likely that the heroes will want to pay Mother Immortal Light a visit.

The heroes' previous visits should have consequences.

- Mother Immortal Light will quickly spot that there have been thefts of personal papers. Who could have known?
 - Other Mothers, jealous of her senior position or disapproving of her experiments. This seems unlikely.
 - Another family. She will quickly realise that there is potential blackmail material ("my experiments could be... misunderstood... without context."). Will she confide in senior Mothers? No, but Mother Immortal Serenity would. She will talk to Mother Immortal Joy.
 - Other people who know: Daggerboys (aka the heroes – but seen as unlikely), the Brothers, the Motleys, the Masks.
- They will figure out that the visitors yesterday and the person seen in the robing room were probably related to the theft. Enquiries will be made which will eventually lead to the heroes.
- In the mean time, the guard on the Temple of Mercy will be doubled. Watchers will start patrolling at night.
- Ultimately, the Mothers will prefer to hush the whole affair up, much to Immortal Light's annoyance. This means that the heroes will not be formally accused and nor will the Masks.
- The Mercy Hospital will be seen as the most likely source of the leak, and is vulnerable. It could be raided or burnt down (or something nastier? Poison? Disease?) as an act of revenge [I like this – it's petty and subtle. The Mothers have probably been looking for an excuse to get rid of the Brothers for some time. How about – someone throws a pot full of disease-carrying flies into the hospital].

In the Temple of Mercy

- Additional guards now patrol the main area day and night.
- The first problem is to get past the two guards at the foot of the stairs. A distraction will be required. Slight's powers are at -2.
- The stairs lead up 20' to a narrow corridor pierced by arched windows overlooking the central area. There are two additional guards patrolling the upper gallery.
- The second room on the left is a store room which is locked (Slight or Fish Trader could pick it). Surgical instruments are stored here, along with towels, linen sheets and other hospital accoutrements.

Immortal Serenity:

A 3 Calming voice

E 3 Resist pain

F 3 Paralysing poison

W 2 Comfort the bereaved

Typical Watcher guards (16 in the main area):

A 2 Give orders
E 4 Stand solidly
F 4 Sword
W 3 Spot trouble

Laying an Ambush

An obvious alternative would be to wait until Immortal Light leaves the Temple and heads for home, then ambush her. The problem here is that she works very late, well after the evening curfew. The heroes will have to dodge patrolling groups of Watchers – Slight can do this even with his reduced powers, but a patrol could turn up at an awkward time.

The other problem is that much of her route lies along fairly large and public roads. Like most other Mothers who work at the Temple, Immortal Light goes up South Root Street from Sufferer's Square, then cuts through Mother's Walk to Nurturer Way and thence to her house on the east side of the Nurturer Plaza. The nearby huts are all detached with gardens but no fences and there are no convenient alleys in which to lurk. Because it is so heavily used, the whole route is lit with lanterns – these are magical orbs, so Flame cannot put them out. Sounds of a scuffle will attract attention.

The final problem is that Immortal Light does not go home alone. She is accompanied by Immortal Serenity and three other Mothers (two of them men). All have the tranquilising darts. She will shed all but one of them in Mother's Walk.

Mother Immortal Light's Home

If the heroes can sneak past the Watcher patrols, they could break into Immortal Light's house.. Doing so without alerting the neighbours will prove challenging, however. If the alarm is raised (Mothers can produce a penetrating ululation), half a dozen Watchers will come running in two groups of three and various Mothers will emerge to see what is going on.

She lives alone (the garden shows some signs of neglect) – the house is Japanese-style spartan with two rooms and minimal furnishings (futon-style bed, personal shrine to the Mother, dressing table, wardrobe, washbasin). There are no personal effects and no decorations on the whitewashed walls.

Immortal Light:

A 6 Medical knowledge
E 5 Resist pain
F 4 Dissection knife

W 0 (note: Slight will find her very disturbing. She appears to have no strong feelings whatsoever, which makes her very resistant to his magic)

Powers: Zeyuk-han (F,M). Her touch can take away or cause debilitating pain (inflicted at her Earth + FC). Anyone who doesn't resist is immobilised by the agony.

An Interview with Mother Immortal Light

- On a neutral or lucky FC, Immortal Light is here. She is 40s, long black hair. Crows feet round clear grey-brown eyes. Studious expression.
- On an unlucky FC, her assistant Immortal Serenity is here, collating papers at one of the tables. 30s, long black hair curled at the ends.
- If allowed to explain, she will say that she is researching drugs that will put a patient to sleep temporarily while they are being operated on. At present, patients must be held down by a group of Mothers who can take away the pain, but they are still conscious and wriggle around which often results in complications during delicate surgery. "Just this week, we lost four patients – four! – because of nicked arteries".

- Bliss has potential but also very nasty side effects. She has been experimenting with preparing it in different ways can cutting it with other drugs in an attempt to find a combination that works. Because bliss has such varying effects on people, this has required large scale experiments and the beggars of Beggartown, who are already weakened by disease, make very good test subjects.
- The heroes may decide to try to assassinate her. She is easy to kill, but escaping from the Temple of Mercy will prove tricky. There are Watchers guarding the doors and the Mothers have a number of paralysing poisons (kept on darts in their sleeves for subduing manic patients). Assassinating a Mother will bring the full force of the Everway authorities down on the heroes very quickly.
- Killing her will have serious repercussions. Murdering a Mother is one of the few crimes in Everway that is punishable by death. If Flame can be shown to be involved, the Keepers and the Crows will be tasked with attacking the cellars and bringing Flame to justice.
- Encourage the heroes to come up with a more creative punishment. Cutting off her fingers would be very suitable. Walker would have to be involved and Flame could cauterise the stumps. There would still be repercussions (anyone involved would become a person of Disputed Status), but the Keepers and Crows will probably stay out of it.
- The heroes can take the papers describing the Bliss experiment, but they will be of little value except to enemies of the Mothers. Glimmer Moondance would be interested, as would Almond Weaver.

Smuggling Plans

- Other commodities that Everway lacks / bans
 - Gold and Silver. "Metal Tax" of 50% on anyone who isn't the Diggers or the Golds bringing precious metals into the Lands of Everway.
 - Drugs: Bluegrow, Brighteye.
 - Artisanware from the Civil Kingdom or Glorious Empire
 - Basahnware and engraved Fortune Decks – one of which has a likeness of Flame...
 - Weapons
 - Wines – heavily taxed
 - Pornography – not illegal (except if depicting illegal acts), but embarrassing
 - Medicines. Some family members do not like going to the Mothers particularly for embarrassing personal problems, thinking knowledge of their weaknesses gives them undue power. (The Mothers assure confidentiality but no-one quite believes them). There is a thriving black market in dubious remedies for diseases such as Libertine's Itch.

What other lines of income do you want to pursue?

- Restaurants and Taverns. Steady income but low margin.
- Gifts from wealthy "well wishers" and tradesfolk, particularly if The Trade Dispute resolves well.
- Blackmail opportunities from the brothels.
- Expand the smuggling operation. Find additional contacts in nearby realms. Lands of Everway, Sea Lords, Keep in the Woods, Blacksand Desert, Civil Kingdom.
- Possible smuggling goods:
 - Basahnware and engraved fortune decks
 - Wine – heavily taxed
 - Gold and other precious metals. Everway has a shortage.

- Medicines – it is known that some people don't like using the Mothers because they don't trust them to keep embarrassing medical conditions secret. Includes groups strongly affiliated with the Great Council such as the Golds, Diggers, Stonebreakers, Scratches, Weavers and Moondancers.
- Smuggling across worlds. Sphere walkers are rare.
- Undercut the Golds by setting up a tax-free alternative to the Bazaar.

Three Trees can reveal that they have two other safe houses. One is Manta's mother's house (Tuna) near Talespinner's Square. The other is an abandoned fisherman's hut in the marshes to the west of Strangerside.

- Pagoda Five: An inhabitant of the Glorious Empire, she supplies artisanware.

Fish Trader's contacts would be an obvious place to go for possible dodgy goods to trade. They are fish traders so the obvious one is chatterfish. From the Chatterfish River, these (now extremely rare) fish, about four foot long and the shape of fat salmon, are semi-intelligent. They surface and jabber rapidly to each other in a language that no one has been able to decipher. Catching them is extremely difficult (they can use sharp rocks, for example, to cut through nets), but their powdered brains, dissolved in wine, is said to increase intelligence temporarily.

Contact name: Spar Fastnet. She has been contacted by Point Scratch, a young student who is about to take an exam for an indexer in the Library of All Worlds. He needs help remembering the layout of the library because he has just married into the family.

Problem – how to get goods through the heavily guarded gates:

1. Powerful concealment spells – work but Keepers are occasionally supplemented by Crookstaff detectors like Glint. Cheese hounds can detect magic up to level 4.
2. Corrupt the guards. Money will not generally persuade the Keepers, but they are still human.
3. Distractions: Unlikely to work. The Keepers are organised and have trained for this very possibility. A particularly cunning distraction or powerful illusion might work.

So – Lockstep Keeper. He has become addicted to Brighteye (the Keepers have a competition to see who can stand guard the longest without losing concentration and he is currently his sept's champion). The smugglers have used him before to get goods through gates. The problem is that the Keepers randomly rotate duties every week so as to prevent precisely this kind of subornment.

Possibilities:

Brander Smith (Why) wants a Sphere of Pure Flame from Fire's Wall. The sphere itself needs to be made from midianite-infused glass. A little dull.

Hammerhand Pike

- Hammerhand can be found in Blood Row in Earthbank, posing as a butcher. The street is well-named – its streets run with blood and are piled with offal and bones from the dozens of butchers that work there. The street slopes down to a marsh which is infested with gulls, giant rats and other scavengers which feed on the remains.
- He is extremely paranoid and will stick stoutly to his story that he is just a humble butcher (a transparent lie to Rathgard and Slight).
- He can be threatened or bullied into doing business. He will try to claim the 100 hefts he is owed and will call the heroes' bluff if they threaten to expose him. After all, he their only source of ironware and blue glassware. The heroes can lie and say they have an alternative source, which may be effective depending on how convincing they are.
- He will take an interest in a possible alliance to attack Everway, but will need convincing that it is genuine. He says he will have to take it back to his superiors.

Stoneflake and Whiting

- Asking after Galleon at the Temple of Mercy may, if the heroes are lucky, find another garrulous Mother (Brighteye).
- Galleon had an operation – a cordectomy. Brighteye assumed that he was making too much noise at the Calming House – "he certainly screamed enough when he was here".
- Brighteye assumed that he was taken back to the Calming House after he recovered. One odd thing was that the people who picked him up were not Mothers, but Tenders. "A couple of Buryer Tender's men I think. It was all legit - they had Mother Gentle's seal and everything." They smiled in a very disconcerting way...

Fish Trader and Gentle Dew

- Other Peacemasters in Everway. One (Peacemaster Rrauw, who calls himself Yew Threadlip, a doctor) turns rogue and starts assassinating high-up Everwayans (such as Glint Crookstaff...!).
 - First Target: Lucent Stonebreaker

Walker and Humility

- At some point, Humility will come to find Walker. She has been removed from the temple after the Smiths removed their sponsorship. She doesn't know what to do next.
- Kegtap could get her into trouble with the elders of the cult of Elpis by suggesting that she had a sexual liaison with Walker. Could be a reason why Walker has to visit Temple.
